THE AMERICAN PHYSICAL SOCIETY

The following transfer agreement must be signed and returned to the APS Editorial Office, 1 Research Road, Box 9000, Ridge, NY 11961-9000 before the manuscript can be published. Send requests for further information to the Administrative Editor at the above address.

TRANSFER OF COPYRIGHT AGREEMENT

Copyright to the unpublished and original article and subsequent, if necessary, errata, including copyright to the abstract forming part thereof, entitled submitted by the following author(s) (names of all authors)_____ is hereby transferred to The American Physical Society (APS) for the full term thereof throughout the world, subject to the following rights that the author(s) may freely exercise and to acceptance of the article for publication in a journal of APS. APS shall have the right to register copyright to the article and the accompanying abstract in its name as claimant, whether separately or as part of the journal issue or other medium in which such work is included.

The author(s) shall have the following rights:

- (1) All proprietary rights other than copyright, such as patent rights.
- (2) The right, after publication by APS, to refuse permission to third parties to republish an article or a translation thereof. Those seeking reprint permission must seek the author(s)' permission directly, in addition to obtaining APS' permission. However, it is not necessary to obtain permission from APS [only from the author(s)] to quote excerpts from an article or to reprint figures or tables therefrom, as long as no more than 25 figures and/or tables from the totality of APS journals are to be reprinted in a single publication.
- (3) The right, after publication by APS, to use all or part of the article and abstract, without revision or modification, in personal compilations or other publications of the author's own works, including the author's personal web home page, and to make copies of all or part of such materials for the author's use for lecture or classroom purposes, provided that the first page of such use or copy prominently displays the bibliographic data and the following copyright notice: "Copyright (year) by The American Physical Society."

(4) The right to post and update the article on e-print servers as long as files prepared and/or formatted by APS or its vendors are not used for that purpose, and as long as access to the server does not depend on payment of access, subscription, or membership fees. Any such posting made or updated after acceptance of the article for publication shall include a copyright notice as in (3).

(5) If the article has been prepared by an employee within the scope of his or her employment, the employer shall have the right to make copies of the work for his own internal use. If the article was prepared under a U.S. Government contract, the government shall have the rights under the copyright to the extent required by the contract.

The author(s) agree that all copies of the whole article or abstract made under any of the above reserved rights shall include notice of the APS copyright.

By signing this agreement, the author(s) warrant that this manuscript has not been published elsewhere, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If each author's signature does not appear below, the signing author(s) represent that they sign this agreement as authorized agents for and on behalf of all the authors, and that this agreement and authorization is made on behalf of all the authors.
